

Atwood® Comfort Control

One Control Four Zones Maximum Flexibility

The Atwood Comfort Control operates numerous RV heating & cooling appliances, giving you total control of your comfort level throughout your vehicle—from one location!

Total Control

Operate as many as eight different heating and cooling appliances in up to four zones including standard and 2-stage furnaces, roof-top air conditioners, heat pumps, hydronic systems and more—all from one location!

Easy, Versatile Installation

Plug-N-Play operation uses ethernet cables and operates with Remote Sensors yet require no special adapters to interface with different heating and cooling systems.

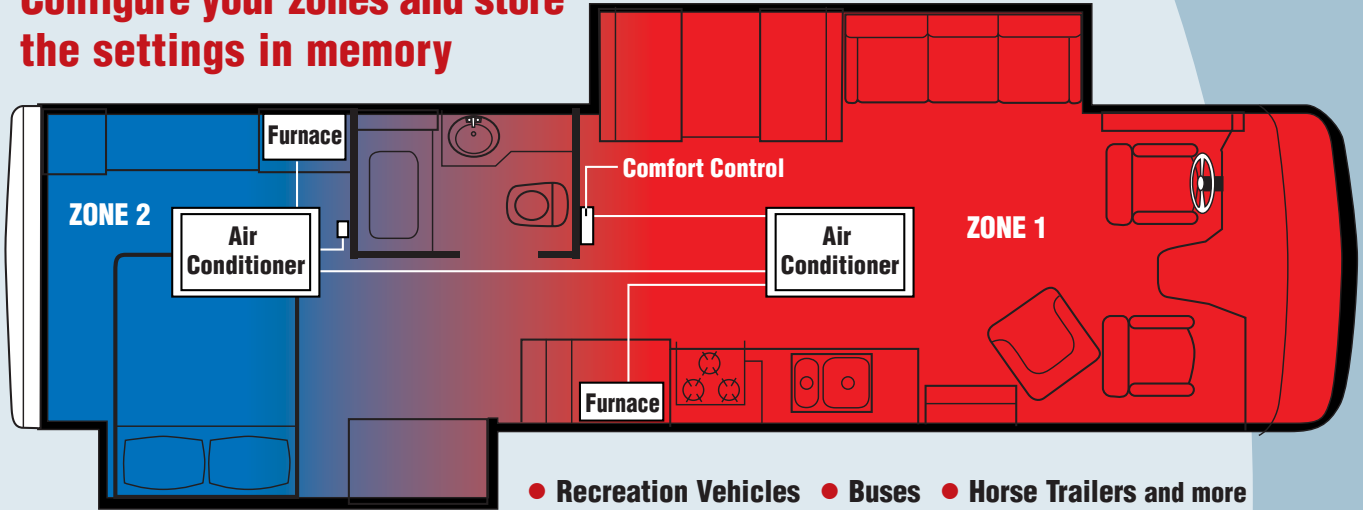

Atwood Comfort Control

Control all of these appliances from one location!

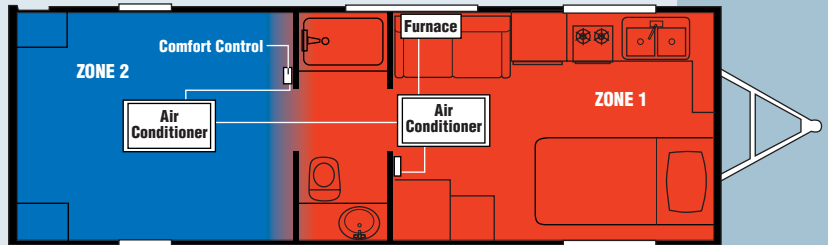

- All standard furnaces, including the New Atwood Excalibur XT™ 2-Stage Furnace
- Standard 3-stage and standard 2-stage air conditioners
- Standard 2-stage and standard 1-stage air conditioners with heat pump
- Electric heat strip
- Hydronic heating systems

Configure your zones and store the settings in memory

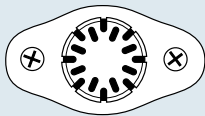

Plug-N-Play Operation

The Atwood Comfort Control Interface connects to a standard RJ-45 Ethernet cable. There's only one way to plug it in!

Easy Upgrade

Fewer wires makes installation and upgrades easier for OEMs.

Remote Sensors

Atwood Zone Control Modules (AZCM) provide the flexibility to configure zones throughout the vehicle.

Liquid Crystal Display (LCD)

A backlit LCD panel displays ambient room and set point temperature in Fahrenheit or Celsius. Other functions include: Mode of Operation, Fan Speed Settings, Individual Zone Monitoring, and Overall Zone Monitoring
